100 clothing-care kits being donated through shopping event for Lowcountry Orphan Relief

Dozens of children in need will be receiving help through a collaboration between several Lowcountry groups. Suburban Propane, Tanger Outlets and the Charleston RiverDogs have teamed up to assemble and donate 100 clothing-care kits through a shopping event that will benefit Lowcountry Orphan Relief. The nonprofit works to provide goods and services to children who have been abused or neglected, a press release explained.
